William H. Foege, MD, MPH

Senior Fellow, Global Health Program
The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation

"BUILDING LEGACIES: EVERYTHING AFFECTS EVERYTHING"

Dr. William Foege will deliver a keynote address about public health and health care policy, with critical application to today's world. He will also be a guest speaker at the annual MEZCOPH student-organized Social Justice Symposium, addressing students during a special break-out session.

Health care is emerging as one of the top domestic issues under our nation's new Administration. The timing of Dr. Foege's lecture is significant for identifying and addressing public-health policies that confront our nation and our global society.

A graduate of the University of Washington School of Medicine and the Harvard School of Public Health, Dr. Foege is internationally recognized as the leader of the team that eradicated smallpox. Dr. Foege is also a former director of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

About this lecture series:

To honor Dr. James E. Dalen's countless lifelong contributions to the advancement of The University of Arizona and his key role in establishing The University of Arizona's Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health, the College is establishing an endowment in his name entitled The James E. Dalen Endowment for Public Health Policy. This endowment supports The James E. Dalen, MD, MPH, Distinguished Visiting Professor in Health Care Policy Lecture Series in which distinguished scholars such as Dr. Foege offer lectures and discussions to our campus community and to the public on local, state, national and international health policy issues. These lectures help connect the academic world with the "real world" of public health.
