INDIGIWELLBEING PRESENTS:

STORYTELLING WELLNESS WITH AUTHOR ANGELINE BOULLEY

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 19TH
LOEWS VENTANA CANYON
2-3PM: EVENT
3-4PM: BOOK SIGNING

Angeline Boulley, an enrolled member of the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians, is a storyteller who writes about her Ojibwe community in Michigan’s Upper Peninsula. She is a former Director of the Office of Indian Education at the U.S. Department of Education. Angeline lives in southwest Michigan, but her home will always be on Sugar Island. Firekeeper’s Daughter is her debut novel.

The first 50 to register and in attendance will receive their own copy of Firekeeper’s Daughter after the event. Priority given to those under the age of 18 and one per household.

Attendance is capped at 100, registration and masks are required! Please register at: https://bit.ly/3GI00xa or scan barcode

PLEASE CONTACT
WILLIAMOCARSON@EMAIL.ARIZONA.EDU
OR FELINA@ARIZONA.EDU FOR ANY QUESTIONS

Native American Advancement & Tribal Engagement

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
Mel & Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health