make a difference.
change the world.
join public health.

bachelor of science in public health
The University of Arizona Mel and Enid Zuckerman College of Public Health offers the Bachelor of Science (BS) in Public Health program, a 64 credit major designed to train public health professionals who seek to improve the quality of life of individuals and communities.

prerequisites

general education (24 units)
  English Composition (3-6)
  Second Language Proficiency (0-8)
  Tier 1
    Traditions & Cultures (6)
    Individuals & Society (6)
  Tier 2
    Arts or Humanities (3)
    Individuals & Societies (3)
  Diversity Emphasis (0-3)

math (3 units)
  MATH 112  College Algebra Accelerated (3) or higher

pre-public health (29 units)
  CHEM 151  General Chemistry I (4) OR CHEM 101A Introduction to Chemistry (3)
  CHEM 152  General Chemistry II (4) OR CHEM 101B (3) and CHEM 102 (1)
  MCB 181 Introductory Biology with Lab (4)
  NSC 170C1 Nutrition, Food & You (3)
  PSIO 201 Human Anatomy & Physiology I (4)
  PSIO 202 Human Anatomy & Physiology II (4)
  CPH 178 Personal Health & Wellness (3)
  CPH 205 Communicating Science & Health
  OR COMM 119 Public Speaking (3)

tracks
  » Environmental and Occupational Health
  » Health Delivery
  » Public Health Behaviors

admissions criteria
  » GPA of 2.5 or higher
  » Resume
  » Personal statement

application deadlines
  Fall: August 1
  Spring: November 1
  Summer: April 1

more information
Alan Beaudrie, Undergraduate Coordinator
abeaudri@email.arizona.edu  |  520.626.3207

www.publichealth.arizona.edu
1295 N. Martin Ave.  |  PO Box 245033  |  Tucson, Arizona  85724